RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Graduate Research Assistant

Emory University

Aug. 2025 – Present

Atlanta, GA

- Adding AI features to SavvyHER, a tailored HIV prevention and sexual health app for women, that combine engagement signals, psychometric assessments, and NLP detected statements reflecting motivation and barriers to deliver tailored prevention content
- Conducted a mixed methods usability study of Glucose-ML, a web interface for discovering and comparing continuous glucose monitoring datasets, with 20 researchers using think aloud tasks, preference testing, and semi-structured interviews
- Developed a study specific usability tool adapted from System Usability Scale (SUS) and Questionnaire for User Interaction Satisfaction (QUIS) to quantitatively evaluate system feedback and CGM dataset discovery and comparison workflows

Undergraduate Research Assistant

University of California, Irvine

Jun. 2023 – Jun. 2025

Irvine, CA

- Analyzed qualitative data from smartwatch user studies to uncover recurring themes and gain actionable insights
- Designed and developed interactive Streamlit dashboards to visualize clusters of 109 distinct themes in order to highlight key contextual and semantic relationships
- Utilized ChatGPT 3.5's API to automate and refine the extraction of contextually relevant themes from user studies and feedback

Undergraduate Research Intern

University of California, Berkeley

Jun. 2024 – Aug. 2024

Berkeley, CA

- Developed an information retrieval system to capture key values (e.g., dates and case IDs) across 490 legal documents totaling 32,849 pages
- Implemented a semantic search-based clustering approach to group legal documents by contextual similarity
- Built interactive user interfaces with React.js and TypeScript to visually present comprehensive document analytics for various stakeholders (e.g., journalists and legal professionals)
